The Future of Payroll is in the Cloud

In line with demand, we've upgraded our award winning MegaPay software to On-Cloud.

WHAT YOU'LL GAIN WHEN YOU SWITCH:

Reduced Risk

In 2022, the Irish Data Protection Commission imposed fines in excess of €17 billion.

Protecting sensitive data is paramount to businesses avoiding costly data breaches and compliance orders.

By moving to the cloud, you instantly employ enterprise grade data centres through Microsoft Azure, with data stored in Dublin and backed up in Amsterdam. A round-the-clock security operations centre (SOC) constantly monitors the entire cloud infrastructure.

Lower Costs

Maintaining backups, server patching and software upgrades are no longer your team's responsibility, as we do this for you.

This enables you to save on the long term staff costs involved in maintaining physical software. For larger corporations, the sheer volume of sensitive data means on-premises software requires round the clock monitoring and timely backups to ensure optimal security. With cloud, this GDPR responsibility in completely outsourced.

Improved Security

The most common way attackers get into networks is through phishing and email-borne threats. The attacks almost always enter through user workstations.
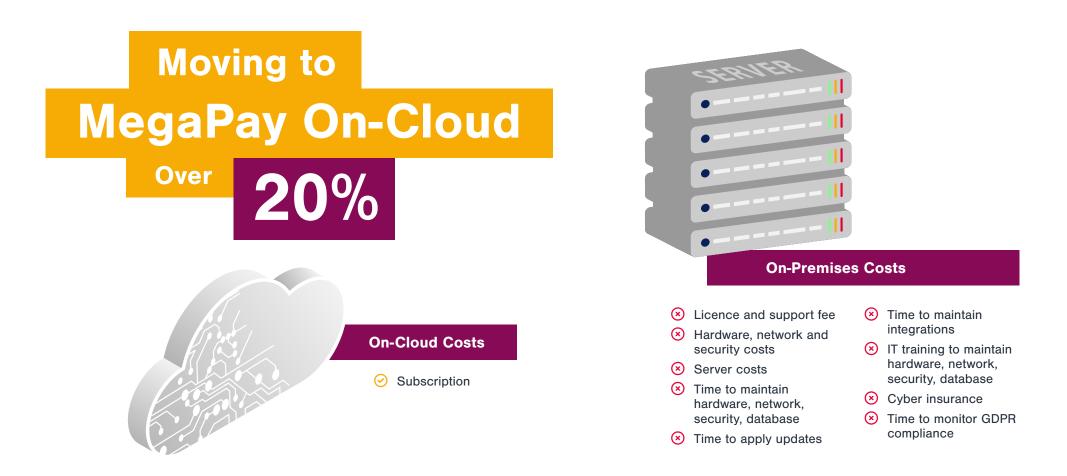

When you're hosted in the cloud, all of your workstations are completely segmented.

In the cloud, users aren't sitting on the corporate network where the data lives.

Secure access, 24/7

Wherever your team is based, the cloud allows flexibility to work anytime, anywhere.

With on-premises software, VPNs or other workarounds need to be configured to enable flexible working. MegaPay On-Cloud is easily deployed for remote working environments, without impacting security.

> Last year we moved from MegaPay On Premises to MegaPay On-Cloud for more data security. The implementation was very smooth, no delays, all teams worked together perfectly.
